Bodhisattva Vow

Vows

1. I do not knowingly torture, maim, or murder any of the four bodies of life:
  - A. The physical body
  - B. The emotional body
  - C. The mental body
  - D. The spiritual body
2. I take life only to give life.
3. I respect, tolerate, and love all sentient beings, even my enemies.
4. I heal, balance, and center first myself, then assist those who desire assistance in their healing, balancing, and centering.
5. I act in light and rest in darkness. I do not act in darkness and rest in light.
6. I give to that which supports the thriving of the four bodies of life, that they may regive.

Bodhisattva Vow

(The Promise)

This is a 21st century interpretation of the Kuan Yin Bodhisattva vow Sunyata took and its purposes:

1. To become awake and aware.
2. To practice mindfulness in reverence and awe of our universe, its power, and laws.
3. To aid others who desire and aid in their quest for self-awakening and self-healing.
4. To understand and teach the unity of all that is living and non-living.
5. To practice and teach tolerance for each other and our uniqueness within the unity of existence.
6. To help all people tap into the healing energies of unconditional love and nature.
7. To assist in raising the collective consciousness of our planet to a level of cosmic consciousness.
8. To actively pursue progression on your spiritual path toward enlightenment in the balanced ways of our universe.
9. To use the psychic gift of jade vision by-products of spiritual development only in light and love.
10. To teach other Chelas in these subjects and practices.
